

The emergency room doctor's use of humor in his bedside manner made me want to know what his 2 words would be. He put my wife at ease by telling her she had the enzymes of 20 year old. He also said ...

“It seems that every octogenarian in a ten mile radius decided to fall today. I really don't know what's going on. There's blood everywhere! You, on the other hand, are in good shape. I'm not going to make much money taking care of you today.”

His delivery was hilarious.

It's hard to go into the ER thinking you might be having a heart attack. Thank GOD that my wife ended up being ok. I think it takes a special person to fully care for you in those moments. We don't always know what to say to comfort each other. But this doctor was able, in just a few moments together, to ease our concerns.

So ... What did he say when I asked him for his 2 words to describe the Bible?

“I really need to read it more.”

He paused to think. He said his Mother is always encouraging him to read it more. I'm guessing that his Mom is in her 70's or 80's. I'm sure he was thankful she hadn't joined in on all the falling down that day!

“Read More” he said. “Those are my 2 words.

“May I never boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ.”

Galatians 6:14 NIV

Read more, and more, and more, until you get the point that the Bible was written for.
