

The word art I chose is not a picture of what ever lasting means. It's a contrast. Elon Musk has been saying for years that we need to colonize the planet MARS.

There's only 500 YEARS of ATMOSPHERE left ... Like GENESIS Ch.6

- Loss of Earth's Magnetic Field: According to some scientists, the magnetic field surrounding Earth is weakening, and could be gone in as little as 500 years. It is widely believed that Mars lost its magnetic field around 4 billion years ago, and with nothing to protect the red planet from the solar wind, its atmosphere was eventually blown away.

We need to TERRAFORM MARS ... BUT we do not have the time 100K Years or the money $50T to do this. In 2019 the GDP was $19T, GND $23T and the combined worth of the 20 Richest People on the Planet was $8T. We cannot just nuke MARS like a bag of popcorn and expect an ECOSYSTEM to appear overnight ... even though Elon Musk says we can. (The world's nukes contain energy comparable to less than 5 hours of sunlight hitting Mars ... that's NOT ENOUGH HEAT ... And how will we clean up the radiation from the air?)

Let's just say we could pull it off. That's not the hardest part we'd have to accept. To survive on MARS we'd have to do ...

2 FULL HOURS of CrossFit a day!!

Are you ready for that? I'm not really ready to give up on planet earth just yet. But the reality is, it has a shelf life. One way or another, life on earth as we know it will come to an end.

Yes ... everything in this life is temporary.

I wish I could remember that simple truth when it feels like my world is falling apart.

In life, sometimes it's as if I'm waiting for the other shoe to drop. The next crisis that is going to blow everything up. Why do I think that way?

That's called "catastrophizing."

One of the places that I do that in life is in my employment. I'm a project manager in a commercial construction company. It's an industry and a role that can easily chew you up and spit you out. There are many jobs that have that result. And they all come in one way or another with the same daily fearful thought ...

“I'm going to make a HUGE mistake and it's going to cost me my livelihood.”

We ignore any indication that this is not probable. We don't believe ourselves. We can't talk ourselves out of the spiraling doubts. We reluctantly resolve to live with the fear and anxiety. Waiting for the other shoe to drop.

I like to say that it's GOD's BiG SHOW.
Perhaps I should focus on that instead of all the "what if's" every day?

"The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away; Blessed be the name of the LORD."

Job 1:21 NKJV

My interpretation of what Job said?

Bring it. My GOD is able.

Why do I say that? Because Job said it as WORSHIP.

And GOD confirmed that he wasn't wrong
in what he said.

GOD is good all the time. All the time GOD is good.

Do you believe that?

Job did.

But it didn't mean he understood what was going on, did it?

Ultimately GOD never explained it to him. To this day GOD doesn't explain to us why things happen.

Worship GOD. Who cares about shoes.
