

I appreciate it when someone uses caution at sharing their opinion. I wish I could do that better myself!

Ever second guess what you should've or shouldn't of said? How long do you stew on stuff like that?

As I get older I'm realizing more and more that I should keep my mouth shut more and more.

When I asked a group of glazers (glass installers) to describe the Bible in jus2words one of them remained silent. He was thinking about his answer while the others were sharing. Then he spoke up and said ...

“No Opinion.”

To be honest, that makes me really curious to know what he thought of the Bible.

GOD only knows.

“For the word of God is alive and active. Sharper than any double-edged sword, it penetrates even to dividing soul and spirit, joints and marrow; it judges the thoughts and attitudes of the heart. Nothing in all creation is hidden from God’s sight. Everything is uncovered and laid bare before the eyes of him to whom we must give account.”

Hebrews 4:12-13 NIV

Actually, no opinion is an opinion. It's the effort to be neutral, isn't it?

If the Bible is about Jesus Christ, there's no neutral ground. I say "if" just in case you haven't read it for yourself.

There's only one way to find out.

"Anyone who chooses to do the will of God will find out whether my teaching comes from God or whether I speak on my own."

John 7:17 NIV
