

We were remodeling a school pool building converting it into a multipurpose room.

It was an Olympic sized pool. What was once used for swimming would now be used for wrestling matches, robot wars, and maybe a dance or two.

The young man that gave me these 2 words was standing on the new concrete where the pool had once been.

I've got a jus2words.com sticker on the back of my hard hat. I have a company logo and name of the construction company I work for on the front.

I approached this young man and pointed at the sticker on the front and said, “This is my second job.”

Then I pointed to the sticker on the back and said, “But this is my first job.”

I then explained that I was writing a book online based on people’s answer to this question:

“If you could describe the Bible in 2 words, what would you say?”

“Very Meaningful”

He said it with a smile on his face. I could tell the Bible really meant something to him.

Had he read it before? All the way through? Had he studied it and sought to deeply understand it?

Maybe.

What I sensed was that there had been someone dear to him in his life who really cared for him. And it was his relationship with this person that had been ... “Very Meaningful.”

Think about it.

There are people in this world that make us think about the Bible in a favorable way because of how much they care about us.

Our impression of the Bible is based on them personally.

We think “There must be something about that book that’s real. And it must be really good.”

To me, that “something” is ... the love of GOD. That’s what we’re all drawn to.

And what is the greatest demonstration of that love in the real world?

Hint: it’s Jus2words.

The cross. Jesus said it Himself.

“And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to myself.” He said this to show the kind of death he was going to die.

John 12:32 NIV

Now, what I sensed about this young man may or may not be what happened in his life. But regardless of that, he told me a couple of weeks later that coming up with his 2 words made him think even more about it, even days later.

It influenced him to the point that he took his family to church that next Sunday.

Ultimately, that kind of influence can only come from our Savior, Jesus Christ.

Why?

Because He is the only One who can sustain it for a lifetime.

Even for all of eternity.

Just trust.
